

Sack Race

You will need a regular-sized pillow case or other large fabric sack for each person participating in the race. Determine a starting line and a finishing line. Gather several friends together with their sacks. Everyone lines up in a straight line behind the starting line, standing in his sack. When a designated person says “Go,” each person starts to race toward the finish line. The first one there wins the race.