

Reading 5B

Pages in My Head

Endeavors

(Lessons 99–123)

Vocabulary—Context Sentences

Moses and Joshua
Lesson 99

1. When Markus was given his script for the program, he saw that he had a lot of lines to memorize.
2. Mom was upset with the mice that were inhabiting our house.
3. On the opening night of the opera, one of the soloists was sick, and the understudy had to take her place.
4. When my brother was learning to play the violin, I didn't think I could tolerate the noise.

Moses and Joshua
Lesson 100

1. I besought my mother to let me have some ice cream with my cookies.
2. My father told me that the cookies I ate should suffice my hunger.
3. David said that to believe that seeing a black cat will give you bad luck is superstitious.
4. Our neighbors came to congratulate us on the birth of our new baby.

David's Endeavor
Lesson 101

1. Our German shepherd, Fritz, defied our commands to come back when he saw a rabbit in the bushes.
2. Fritz nearly broke his chain when he assayed to run away.
3. When my sister fed dog food to our cat, he disdained it and walked away.
4. After playing outside in the December air, our cheeks were ruddy from the cold.
5. The burglars tried to hit the guard dogs with long staves.

Today's Swordsmen
Lesson 104

1. The chandelier had fifty pieces of crystal reflecting the lights of thirteen separate bulbs.
2. Juan's parents teach him proper etiquette for behavior at the dinner table.
3. Larry's opponent in the wrestling match weighed ten pounds more than Larry.
4. Renee's poise on the balance beam helped her complete the double somersault.

Corps-à-Corps
Lesson 105

1. Since we didn't have an umpire, we asked Jared to preside over the baseball game.
2. Ashley deliberately missed the basket so that her little sister could win the game.
3. Thomas scored a goal after he feinted to the left but kicked the ball to the right.
4. The girl sneered at James after she beat him in the spelling bee.
5. As she started her homework, Christina looked wistfully out the window at her friends playing.

Corps-à-Corps
Lesson 106

1. We were awed by the beauty of the Swiss Alps.
2. Goliath thought he could defeat David by his brute strength.
3. We tried to remember the constellation names of the different star clusters.
4. John was in great pain when he tore the tendons that connect the muscles to his anklebone.

100-Meter Dash
Lesson 108

1. The Olympic boxer will pummel the punching bag at practice.

The All-American Game
Lesson 109

1. When Tim went to the Rugby game in England, he was surprised to find it similar to football.
2. As I took my test, I mulled over the answers to the difficult questions.
3. Our P.E. teacher encourages us to strengthen our muscles by having us do calisthenics.
4. Because of all the heavy lifting that my uncle does on his farm, he is brawny.

The Little Things of Sissa
Lesson 111

1. The knight was banished from the kingdom to a distant island because of his disloyalty.

Coronation Day
Lesson 112

1. As the man turned the crank of the hurdy-gurdy, the boy sang along with the music.
2. Now that she was ready to retire, the spinster would not even consider marriage.
3. In order to reach the lights in the gymnasium, the men had to build scaffolding.
4. The ship gently moved against the quay where the men stood ready to unload the ship's cargo.

Coronation Day
Lesson 113

1. The knight wore the gauntlet to protect his hand as he fought.
2. The old lady showed us all the decorative tapestries that she had woven on her loom.
3. The fur on the prince's coat was white and black-tipped ermine.
4. The jacktar had seen many fierce storms while sailing and enjoyed telling us about them.
5. Jason enjoyed helping his uncle tinker, mending pots and pans and other utensils.

John Bunyan: Prisoner with a Pen
Lesson 114

1. Mrs. Patterson told the giggling girls they were being frivolous.
2. The adventures of King Arthur and his knights took place in medieval times.
3. William asked the Lord to help him overcome the vice of lying.

John Bunyan: Prisoner with a Pen
Lesson 115

1. The young man studied theology to prepare himself for preaching God's Word.
2. Julie walked about in a stupor, not seeing or hearing what was going on around her.
3. The fervent fans cheered for their team to win the game.
4. The pious preacher prayed three hours every day.

Literature Lesson: Biography
Lesson 116

1. The birthday money from his grandma enabled Chris to buy a new bike.
2. My favorite story about Grandpa is an episode involving him and a mud puddle.
3. Generosity is one of Seth's many virtues.

Vanity Fair
Lesson 119

1. Solomon wrote that all the temporal things of this world are vanity.
2. The archaeologist hoped to find an ancient relic in the Aztec ruins.
3. Before the teacher came into the room and quieted the students, there was a lot of hubbub.
4. The little boy in the fight said that the bigger boys were his abusers.

Vanity Fair
Lesson 120

1. We tried to persuade our babysitter that Mom always gives us cookies before supper.
2. Because of the woman's eyewitness testimony, the jury convicted the man of the robbery.
3. A heretic is someone who opposes the established religion.
4. The soldiers scourged the prisoner with a whip.

Doubting Castle
Lesson 121

1. I climbed the steps of the stile up and over the fence into the cornfield.
2. Timothy was filled with despair when he realized he had lost his wallet and all his money.
3. When my twin sisters were born, our family was doubly blessed.

Doubting Castle
Lesson 122

1. Todd lamented the death of his dog for several days.
2. Linda worked to her utmost to make the A honor roll.
3. The townspeople called the man who was always stirring up trouble a rogue.
4. Mountain lions, snakes, and rough terrain were the perils Thomas faced in the mountains.