

Reading 6A

As Full as the World

Victories

(Lessons 31–52)

Vocabulary—Context Sentences

The Granddaddy of All Frogs
Lesson 32

1. After he spent all summer in the sun, towheaded John had hair that was almost white.
2. The spotlight focused on Eva as she faced the audience to deliver her monologue.
3. Dr. Sims gingerly felt Katie's leg for broken bones.

The Granddaddy of All Frogs

Lesson 33

1. Aunt Nell's health degenerated so much that she was no longer able to walk.
2. Since Caleb was the one who initiated the project in the first place, he was put in charge of it.
3. Kim shook her head indignantly when asked if she was the one who broke the window.

The Nisei
Lesson 34

1. A potential buyer for the house will be coming today to look at it.
2. The farmers were evacuated from their homes when the volcano erupted.
3. That scientist is one of the most prominent men in his field.

Brethren Nisei
Lesson 36

1. The sight of an old junkyard marred the beautiful landscape.
2. The soldiers were ambushed by the enemy in the deepest part of the jungle.
3. The governor banned the parking of cars in the city.

Brethren Nisei
Lesson 37

1. Being a devout Christian, Matt used his lunch break to pray and read his Bible.
2. The news of their team's victory roused the fans.
3. Derek lamented the loss of his baseball card collection.

Skill Lesson: Atlas
Lesson 38

1. You can tell Abigail is interested in agricultural things when you see her vegetable and flower gardens.
2. Wyoming has the smallest population of all the United States, with less than 500,000 people.
3. The forest was so densely wooded that a person could hardly walk through it.

A Ride to Honor
Lesson 39

1. Sir Riley pulled the gantlets over his hands after the rest of his armor was in place.
2. Joseph gazed at his grandfather's campaign medals, which told of bravery in many battles.
3. Susan suddenly had a niggling fear that she might have left her music at home.

A Ride to Honor
Lesson 40

1. Jacob's dog did not like the constraint of being tied to a fence post.
2. The Olympic skier completed the course without a falter and won the gold medal.
3. When the ferry reached the island, we disembarked and started looking for a taxi.

Stickball
Lesson 41

1. Mom watches as the plate ricochets from table to chair before landing unbroken on the floor.

The Secret Pitch
Lesson 42

1. With an all-star pitcher and shortstop, the Cubs made a formidable team.
2. Tina thanked him profusely, pumping his hand and making repeated exclamations.
3. Carrie plucked the tomatoes prematurely—they were still green!

The Proud-Minded Princess

Lesson 46

1. I beseech you not to give up now, but to do your best.
2. The king was determined to be a better ruler than his predecessors had been.
3. Although Dan likes baseball, he seems more inclined to play basketball.

The Proud-Minded Princess

Lesson 47

1. Bryan continued playing the piano, oblivious to the howling storm outside.
2. Because of her generous disposition, Miss Baxter bought whatever the students sold at fundraisers.
3. We stayed in the cellar for the duration of the storm.

The Proud-Minded Princess
Lesson 48

1. Only royalty are entitled to inherit the throne of England.
2. The years of King Solomon's reign were years of peace and prosperity.
3. Carving an ice sculpture requires great precision.

Literature Lesson: Setting
Lesson 51

1. Think of a verse that encompasses the needs of everyone, young and old.
2. Mallory was such an integral part of the team, they couldn't do without her.